Almost a year ago, I researched visually the concept of my next project, "ZeftTime". Now, the whole world has entered this state.

When I was invited to participate in (Creative Contagion: Escape Plan #1), and when I received the work from the selected artist before me, I found myself lost again within the layers of time.

*The word Zeft is used in the Arabs world and Palestine specifically, and the Arab region in general, as a contemptuous term expressing a wide range of emotions—from a discouraged state of mind to one of repulsion, and sometimes it points to bad luck or a way to describe an awful situation.
